FROM CHARLESTON TO MOBILE.

The following dispatches appear in the Mobile papers:

CHARLESTON, Jan. 1, 1861.

To the Hon. Percy Walker.—Dear Sir: The Commissioners are said to be returning. The war will probably begin to-morrow. We are ready here. Breastworks are thrown up at every exposed point on the bay; the steam revenue-cutter Harriet Line will be in, but she will not be suffered to enter the harbor. The Governor and Council are now in secret session. Volunteers are hurrying about the streets. Dispatches arriving from Southerners in Washington say, prepare for immediate war. Great excitement.

I am, truly yours.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 1, 1861.

To the Hon. Percy Walker: A letter has been sent by a pilot to meet the Harriet Lane out-sie the harbor, warning her that an attempt to enter will be regarded as a declaration of war.

All the ladies in the city are busily engaged preparing bandages and lint.

In the Sovereign Convention, on Thursday, Mr. Dunkin of the Committee on Postal Arrangements, to whom was referred a communication from the Governor in relation to the statement of B. C. Mr. Pressly received $400 from South Carolina Mr. Pressly received $400 from South Carolina through the Post-Office since that time, which he has paid out to railroad and other contractors for carrying the mails. The Assistant Treasurer, however, has other funds in his hands belonging to the United States, which arise from duties collected from different ports of Georgia, Tennessee, and Alabama, and from moneys received from the Mint at Adronica, and about $9,000 received from the Mint at Philadelphia. Some of these funds stand to the particular credit of persons who already have drafts upon the Treasury. Among these are $3,400 subject to the draft of Maj. Hutton, Paymaster United States Army.

When the Comm ittee had been informed of the funds in the hands of the Treasurer, and to whom they belonged, they thought it proper that these should be turned over to the persons to whose draft they were subject. But in certain cases when war has been declared, the public property of an enemy may be confiscated. Cases sometimes arise which justify such an eatrem emeasure. These, however, must depend upon cases which warrant such an extraordinary procedure. Whether it is expedient for the Convention to interfere in the payment of this draft of the United States army is a question we must consider. And the Convention of did proceed to consider it. All these unfortuate human beings were connected with the recent insurrectionary plot discovered in that county, and the evidence being strong against them, their lives had to pay the forfeit. Those who belong to the Vigilance Committee of Autangaville, we understand, are the eldest and most respectable, as well as the coolest and most humane men in the sounty, and would not have committed any act which the circumstances of the case did not imperatively demand.

FROM NEWBERRY.

We learn from a letter received by a friend in this city from Newberry, that a North Carolina wagoner was caught tampering with a negro boy. The boy had made an appointment to go to the wagoner's camp on Thursday night to buy some apples and whisky, but suspecting, from something the white man said, that all was not right, he informed his master, who with some friends accompanied him to the camp. The conversation was such as to warrant the arrest of the two men who were with the wagon. The proof of their guilt was clear and conclusive. There is much excitement against the individuals.

AN INCIDENT AT FORT SUMTER.

The Baltimore American has the following story:
"One of the Baltimoreans who recently returned from Fort Sumter, details an impressive incident that took place there on Major Anderson taking possession. It is well known that the American flag brought away from Fort Moultrie, was raised at Fort Sumter pre isely at noon on the 27th ult., but the incident of that 'flag raising' have not been related. It was a scene that will be a memorable remainscence in the lives of those who witnessed it. A short time before noon Major will be a memorable remainscence in the lives of those who witnessed it. A short time before noon Major Anderson assembled the whole of his little force, with the workmen employed on the fort, around the foot of the flag-staff. The national ensign was attached to the cord, and Major Anderson, holding the end of the lines in his hands, knelt reveren'ly down. The officers, soldiers were clayed across many of them on their in his hands, knelt reveren'ly down. The officers, soldiers and men clustered around, many of them on their knees, all deeply impressed with the solemnity of the scene. The chaplain made an earnest prayer—such an appeal for support, encouragement and mercy as one would make who felt that 'man's extremity is God's opportunity. As the earnest, solemn words of the speaker ceased, and the men responded Amen with a fervency that perhaps they had never before experienced, Major Anderson drew the 'Star Spangled Hanner' up to the top of the staff, the band broke out with the national air of 'Hail Colembia,' and loud and exultant theres, repeated arain and again, were given by the thensi air of 'Hail Columbia,' and foud and exultant cheers, repeated again and again, were given by the officers, soldiers and workmen. 'If,' said the narrator, 'South Carolina had at that moment attacked the fort, there would have been no hesitation upon the part of any man within it, about defending that flag."

THE SOUTHERN MADNESS.

To the Editor of The N. Y. Tribune. Siz: Our Southern brethren are mad. They are blind as well as mad; or, rather, they are blind because they are mad. They seem to be rushing recklessly upon their own ruin. They want a Southern Confed eracy, they say-all the Slave States to be in one family, and the Free States in another family.

Very well: If all the Slave States resolve upon that, there need be no trouble about the arrangement. It may be done calmly, with plenty of time to settle the details of the separation: Free Labor on one side of the line, Slave Labor on the other, and peaceful relations between them. There need be no haste about it, nor hate. Our Southern brethren can take the entire Summer or whole year for the work if they choose and make all ready to go to housekeeping, with the tea-kettle on the fire for supper, when they say good by to the old homestead and the family they leave behind

They seem, however, to prefer a different style of doing the thing. Their plan seems to include every species of injury, insult, and outrage, to the old folks at home and to the numerous sons who adhere to them. Why will not they be wise in time, and depart in peace-if go they must and will? Let them relinquish their foolish and wicked project of driving the old folks and the entire family out into the cold, and taking violent possession for themselves of the old home stead. The secret plan is to capture the capital and capitol, and prevent by force the inauguration of Lincoln; and retain, by summary process, the public buildings, for their own use. If they will be patient and prodent, perhaps they may have Washington for their scat of government, but not in that way. If that plan be executed, the North, united, will speak and act. Let our Southern brethren be warned in time. Such a project, if executed, would inevitably precipitate a n, which would settle the Slavery question in North America forever. If the North, by any such provocation, should be compelled to cross swords with the South, the next cotton crop, if gathered at all would be harvested by free labor. If the North, aroused by intolerable insult, should cross the line in arms, instant proclamation would be made of liberty throughout all the land and to the inhabitants thereof Let our Southern brethren be warned in time. STORAGE ON GOODS SEIZED BY THE COLLECTOR. Wellington Brown et al. agt. Augustus Schell.

Plaintiffs such the defendant, as Collector, to recover moneys paid under protest. The plaintiff had imported a quantity of telegraph wire, which was seized by the Collector, for an alleged frandulent valuation. A verdict was found in favor of the claimants of the goods. The District Attorney obtained time to make a case to move for a new tind, but the motion was finally abandoned. The claimants then went to get their goods (which in the meantime had been kept in the Government warebooss), but the Collector refused to deliver them, unless the claimants paid storage on the goods for the time which had elapsed since their selume—about two years. The claimant paid the storage, amounting to $625, under protest, and trought this action to recover back the amount. The Court instructed the Jury that the Collector had no right to detain the goods after they were acquitted; the exaction of the storage by the Government, through the Collector, was illegal and unauthorized, and a verdict must be rendered in favor of the plaintiffs for the amount paid under protest with interest. The Jury found accordingly.

ANOTHER OPINION IN THE GRIPHRON RAILROAD CASK.

The People et al. agt. The Mayor, &c., et al.

The opinion in this case sustaining the demurrer interposed by the Mayor, &c., et al. of the private field, was noticed in The Trierene of yesterday. That opinion was delivered at Special Term.

Justice Lenuard now renders another opinion at Chambers, hearing directly on the right of the private plaintiff to sustain the injunction, and upon the constitutionality of the law.

The Court holds that those of the private owners who laid their lands out into city lets, flied maps thereof, and lett the streets open for public use, by that act surrendered the fee in the streets of the city; whenever, by its corporate authorities, in pursuance of law, it opened them for the use of the public use as a public highway, under the act of 1813, for full compensation, it is held that he size is concluded. that they are how entitled to claim no more right or interest in the street than the public generally.

As to Varien, whose land was taken for the public use as a public highway, under the act of 1813, for full compensation, it is held that he size is concluded, that act verting the fee of the streets are used for only other purpose than public highways, is too remote to be of any appreciable nature, and hence cannot be insisted upon.

The act considered in the opinion is held to be unconstitutional, because it assumes to determine what measure of doupen.

is to remose to be to be insisted upon.

The act considered in the opinion is held to be unconstitutional, because it assumes to determine what measure of compensation shall be paid for corporate franchises and private rights. It is therefore yold, and a railroad constituted and r it would be a neisance.

The private plaintiffs claiming that they would be specially inconvenienced by the road, have a standing in court to prevent the erection of the nuisance. For this purpose they are sustained as plaintiffs, and the injunction is continued, operating to restrain what is adjudged a public as well as a private nuisance.

The City of Boston, a steamboat for the New-York and Norwich Navigation Company, will be launched from Samuel Sneden & Co.'s ship-yard Greenpoint, at 9 o'clock this morning. She 312 teet long, 39 feet beam, and 12 feet 6 inches hold. Her machinery is to be put in by the Novelty Works. BRIG CONQUEST ASHORE.

Correspondence of The N. Y. Tribune.

East Moriches, L. I., Jan. 7, 1861. The brig Conquest, of New-York, from Jacmel, St. Domingo, came on shore abreast of East Moriches at midnight of the 5th inst. Her cargo consists of coffee, logwood and mahogany. The coffee is nearly all landed in good order, and probably, should help arrive soon, the vessel will be got affeat and saved. The crew, mostly Danes, all landed in safety.

REPORTED LOSS OF THE SLOOP-OF-WAR LEVANT. A naval officer at this station gives various reasons for the opinion that there is, as yet, no serious cause for alarm as to this vessel, as gales of wind, rough weather and heavy seas are hardly known in the navigation on the route named, while calms frequently prevail which might last for thirty days, or she might have been wrecked upon one of the numerous small islands of that route, as was the case with the Chilian ship Maris Teresa, in 1817, upon Christian Island, latitude 1° 41' south, longitude 57° 30' west, where her passengers and crew were obliged to remain for two months before they could get away. Later is the case of the ship Wild Wave, wrecked in 1858 on Oneo Island, where the crew were detained for many weeks before they were able to get away. On the whole, he thinks we shall soon hear of her safe arrival. A naval officer at this station gives various reasons

BURGLARY BY DAYLIGHT.—Shortly after noon yesterday a burglar attempted to enter the fur store of James McMullen, No. 457 Broadway, the door of which had been looked for a few moments. The clerk, who was on the second floor, inappeared to heart the noise, and suddenly appeared to the enterprise purglar, who lumeduistly took to flight. Ho was pursued through several streets by a rapidly increasing crowd of agile runners, but he proved too fleet of foot for all, and having placed a considerable distance between himself and his pursuers, suddenly disappeared from sight. Before biddlers time alden to the object of his solicitude, the young clerk, who had discovered the thief at work, discharged one barrel of a revolver after him with the usual effect in such cases—clear waste of powder and sell-BURGLARY BY DAYLIGHT .- Shortly after noon yes-

CITY ITEMS.

A lively snow-storm came upon us yesterday morn ing, and lasted all day, abating somewhat after sundown, but bidding fair to continue through the night. Snow enough fell to make tolerably good sleighing out of town, and in some of the more retired streets of the city; but in the main thoroughfares the travel was too much for it altogether. Snow is a nuisance in New York, and ought to be abated. Instead of comin down deep enough to bury the wheeled vehicles, and compel the crusty old stage owners to haul out their 'Great-Eastern' sleighs, for a good, old-fashioned Winter carnival, in which the big folks and the little folks could all take a hand, just enough falls to liquify the thick mud with which our streets are so liberally coated on the first "soft day that comes along, and they are usually pretty nigh about such times, when whoever ventures out of doors must do so at the peril of being spotted and splashed till his best friends would mistake him for a scavenger. Of course, under the present regime, this sort of thing is inevitable; but if the clerk of the weather has no obections, we will take the next installment when Mr. Delavan's department is in funds; or, if it's all the same to him, would be please wait till the new street-clean ing contract has been confirmed? Meanwhile, let all good citizens see to it that their sidewalks are promptly cleaned off early this morning, by the poor, shillingles fellows who will come and tender their services. Policemen who understand their duty will notify delinquents, and see that the work is done without delay. So shall the great peripatetic public be spared innumerable slips, slides, falls, bumps, sprains, bruises, and broken bones.

BULL's HEAD .- The closing day at the great weekly attle market in Forty-fourth street did not exhibit a state of things calculated to make the drovers particularly hilarious. The range of prices through both days has been generally half a cent a pound less than a week ago, and near the close of Wednesday it appeared next o impossible to sell out all the stock without making still greater concessions to the buyers. The cause of the decline is an increase of over 1,600 head in the surply, making a larger total than the average weekly supply all last year.

CONCERT. - A concert in aid of the St. John's Chapel industrial School will take place this evening at Irving Hall. Beside selections from the popular operas, 'The Desert" will be given, under the direction of George F. Bristow, esq., assisted by Miss Maria Brainerd, Messrs. Hazelwood, Eben, Wooster, Beames, and the members of the Harmonic Society. CINDERELLA AND HER SISTERS .- The exhibition of this picture, which has attracted so much attention in this city, will close at Schaus's Gallery, No. 629 Broadway, on Jan. 31. LACTURE REPORT THE NEW-YORK TEACHERS' ASSO-CIATION. - Prof. J. Graeff Barton of the Free Academy delivers a lecture on "The Mission and Constitution of the English Language," this evening at 77 o'clock, at the hall of the Board of Education." Mr. Ferrero announces that he will give his third annual private Soirée Dansante at the Academy of Music on Thursday next, for the gratification of his papils, and their relatives and friends. The floor will be given up to the children from 5 until 9 p. m., and after that hour to adults exclusively.

The church on Fifth avenue, recently under the pastoral charge of the late Dr. Alexander, has given a manimous call to the Rev. Dr. Rice of Chicago.

MR. RARLY'S LECTURE To-NIGHT .- The third practical lecture of the great horse-tamer will be given at Niblo's to-night, at 74 o'clock. Yesterday morning, by 7 o'clock, a crowd had gathered at the box-office to secure places for this lecture; and by 10 a. m. nearly every seat in the parquet had been taken. This is certainly a sure indication of the popular interest which Mr. Rarey's performances have awakened, and augurs well for the success of a long course. Dospite his liberal offer of $100 for every very vicious subject which may be offered, Mr. Rarcy has experienced the greatest difficulty in finding horses sufficiently violent in temper to make an interesting fight at Niblo's. This no doubt arises from the fact that we have few thoroughbreds in this vicinity, which, when really bad in temper, make very violent resistance to his arts. Our horses are mostly base-blooded, and while they show some fight, have not the obstinate courage to resist for a full hour, as Karey's most famous foreign subjects have. For to-night, an ugly kicking horse, named Peacock, bas been offered from the Hudson River Railad atables and others we believe have been se

THE HIGH BRIDGE CROTON MAIN .- The great Croton pipe over the High Bridge is rapidly approaching ompletion-all but one-third of it being already laid and riveted, and the remainder will be taken from the yard at Greenpoint, where it is manufactured, in the course of the present week. After the main is laid, a good deal of mason-work will have to be done to connect the ends with the aqueduct. This work cannot be performed in cold weather, the cement in freezing losing its cohesion; it will, therefore, probably be the first of May before the water is lot in.

BOARD OF COUNCIL MEN.-The Board met for the third time yesterday at 4 p. m. After waiting half an hour, and none of the Republican members or Mr. Repper (Mozart Democrat) appearing, the Chairman pro tem. declared the Board adjourned to Thursday, at 1 p. m.

A NEW INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL .- An interesting scene occurred yesterday on the Battery, in the opening of a new school, at No. 15 State street, for poor children, under the auspices of the Children's Aid Society Numbers of ragged, shoeless, wretched little girls and boys gathered around the doors to obtain the benefits of the school. A most miserable population has gradually grown up in what was once the aristocratic houses of this quarter of the city, who need the charitable efforts of our citizens. This school is managed by a Board of Trustees from the merchants of the First Ward, and it is hoped that many ladies and others, who were former residents of this Ward, will take an interest in this new benevolent effort. The rooms of the school are occupied on Sanday by the Rev. C. W. Denison as a seaman's chapel.

COMMISSIONERS OF EMIGRATION.-Yesterday was the regular meeting day of this Board, but no business was transacted for want of a quorum. The weekly statement shows that 594 emigrants have arrived here since the 1st instant. 1,188 emigrants are under care of the Commissioners on Ward's Island. Balance in bank 1st inst., $1,221 42. CAPT. HARTT AND THE TICKET SWINDLERS .- The ticket swindlers say that Capt. Hartt is "at it agin." They begin to regard him as the coon did Capt. Scott, and consider themselves as good as taken when he once gets on their back. It is gratifying to state that an additional thinning out of these gentry was consummated in the Oyer and Terminer yesterday (see law courts) in the conviction of Isaiah Selover, who has for some time been the object of Capt. Hartt's kind and peculiar care. Selover once before served the State in the striped regiment at Sing-Sing, for a term of years, having been convicted of swindling poor emigrants, he will, therefore, be no novice in the duty which the State is about to impose upon him on his return to the rogues' rural retreat.

SWINDLING POOR WOMEN .- On Wednesday more

ing a number of indiguant women presented themselves at the Detective Police Office, and complained that they had been swindled by a man styling himself Professor Hano. This individual, who gives his residence as No. 1 Monroe street, has recently been advertising that he I Morroe street, has recently been advertising that he was willing to receive a number of lady pupils to instruct in the art of converting photographs and lithographs into oil paintings. He announced that in three losses he could convert a novice into a proficient in the art, and thus give to his pupils a pleasant profession by which they could earn a goodly number of dollars per week. His terms were three dollars for "the course of lectures," and at this price he received innumerable applications from women whose scanty means made them eagerly seize upon any plan which promised to afford them pecuniary reward. The Professor received the necessary $3 from each pupil, and designated Wednes day morning as the time for them to receive, at his room, the first of the promised lessons. At the appointed hour the ladies began to assemble at his received. dence, but on applying for admission found the door locked. The first comers waited patiently for a long time for the Professor to make his appearance, their numbers being finally increased by fresh arrivals unsil upward of twenty women were congregated around the house. Time wore on, and still no Professor, and indications of rising wrath and indignation in the bosoms of the injured innocents began to make themselves manifest. Finally, despairing of seeing their tutor, the indignant women formed in procession and marched the Police Station, where they made complaint against the Professor. Sergeant Dixon immediately recognized, in the description given of Professor Hano, the somewhat famous Prof. Samuel Downing, who was recently arrested on a precisely similar charge. On that occasion the prisoner was discharged from custody. on his declaring his willingness to fulfill all his promis The indignant women express a preference for administering summary punishment themselves upon the supposed swindler, having already provided themselves with cowbides for that purpose.

ORGANIZATION OF UNION VOLUNTEERS.-In VICE of the present disturbed relations existing between the General Government and the State of South Carolina and the probability that the President of the United States will make a requisition upon the Governor of this state for military aid, a meeting was held on Tae-day night at No. 814 Broadway for the purpose of forming a military organization, to be known as the Union Volunteers. Mr. Elder was called to the chair, and Mr. Young appointed Secretary.

Speeches of an enthusiastic character approving the movement were made by Mr. Kirkland, R. B. Boyd. Mr. Allen and others. Mr. Kirkland said that be listed in the American army in the war of 1812, and was again ready, though advanced in years, to put him name upon the muster roll. This would be no holiday povement, and those who culisted would in all probability be called upon for active duty. Mr. Boyd ard Mr. Allen represented between 300 and 400 mea who were at present under discipline and anxious to join the organization. Mr. Hardenbrook stated the there was a German rifle corps of 100 men already organized, who would cooperate with the volunteers On motion, the whole matter was referred to the following named Committee, who were empowered to call further meetings: Messrs. R. B. Boyd, John A. Hardenbrook, Wm. H. Allen, Capt. J. H. H. Camp. Wm. A. Young, C. Kirkland, and D. L. Elder. WONDERFUL ESCAPE OF A FIREMAN-AN EXPRISE TRAIN DELAYED .- When the express train, down on Tuesday night, was between Rhinebeck and Poughkeep sie, on the Hudson River Railroad, one of the rods which connects the driving wheels of the locomotive, broke. At the same instant the fireman was sent sprawling ... the coals of the tender, more frightened than here. His escape from instant death was truly wonderful, he was sitting on his seat on the engine, and the conas well as the whole of that side of the engine-house, was shivered to pieces by the revolving broken red The eoft cushion on which be sat no doubt saved his life, as before the rod could pierce that, he lay at the bottom of the tender. The train was at once stopped, and in half an hour was on its way to Poughkeepsis with one connecting rod. At that place another en was procured, and the train arrived in this city on time.

A CONFIDENCE WOMAN ARRESTED .- A day or two since an intelligent and respectable looking woman arrived at one of the Broadway Hotels, where she gave the name of Mrs. Barker. The following day she went to the residence of a wealthy shipping me Fifth avenue, and presenting what purported to be letter of introduction from a gentleman in New-Orles who is an intimate friend of the New-Yorker, claims an acquaintance with his family. The New-York gentleman called on the lady once or twice at the notel with his wife, and finding her to be a highly socomplished and good looking woman, was remarkably well pleased with the acquintance. Having thus in-gratiated herself with the New-York merchant, Mrs. Barker one day sent a note to his place of business, saying that while out shopping her pocket had been picked of $200, and she therefore begged the loan of $60 until her Southern remittances should arrive. But Mr. New-Yorker, who had some little experience in this business, having invested $500 on a previous occasion under similar circumstances, he telea reply immediately from his friend stating that the woman was an imposter, who had made $500 out of a friend of his in Savannah. The matter was immediately reported to Inspector Carpenter, and the arrest of Mrs. Barker followed soon after. She was detained at Headquarters to allow time for an examination of her TRAINS DELAYED .- An accident occurred on Saturda night last, about 11 o'clock, at Stnyvesant, on the Hudon River Railroad, to the Montreal freight and passenger train down. It appears that the up Night Express flagged an extra, which was seen by the switchman at Sunyvesant. Instead of being more attentive to his duty, he went into his shauty and fell asleep. Ho was aroused by the whistle of an approaching train, and supposing it to be the extra, reversed the switch. He saw his mistake, but too late. The engine, tender, and six cars were thrown from the track, three of which were broken to pieces. The others, as well as the locomotive, received but slight injury. This was owing to the reduced rate of speed at which the train was running at the time. The freight in the cars almost received but little injury. No persons were injured, all the brakemen being at the rear of the train. The Sunday morning Express down passed on time, but the Montreal freight and passed or time, but the Montreal freight and passed, when it started for Albany, arriving in that city at 111 o'closk, a. m., five hours and a half behind time. The down train arrived in this city about the same time. The damage to the eugine and tender is repaired. Our reporter learned last night that four of the cars and tender went over the embankment into the river. Oue of He saw his mistake, but too late. The engine, tender, went over the embankment into the river. One of them broke through the ice. The others which ran of the track were replaced with little difficulty.
